We Focus On Operations, So You Can Focus On Care

Streamlining staff management for care

Whether you run a large family of care homes, manage a travel nursing agency, or work in a hospital, managing your people efficiently is key to caring for your patients with both efficacy and efficiency. Many care organisations view credentialing as the key hurdle to efficiency. But our view is that the most efficiencies are gained by layering credentialing over scheduling and other staff management processes in a single platform.

With Sirenum's platform for staff management, care organisations save time on roster management and payroll processing while offering unprecedented accuracy and transparency to end clients. Sirenum makes it easier than ever for your people to care for your patients.

Benefits

- Build and manage rosters in up to half the time
- Improve staff communication
- Easily replace late or unavailable workers in seconds
- Mitigate health and safety risks
- Accurately calculate staff time and attendance without interrupting existing processes

Scheduling

Building and managing rosters is at the heart of care operations. Sirenum's industry-leading scheduling engine automates roster management with embedded compliance, competency, and fatigue and risk management. You can be confident that you're making it easy for your carers to follow protocol. Say goodbye to spreadsheets and say hello to the right person in the right place at the right time. Every time.

Monitoring

Care organisations need confidence in their staff's whereabouts. Scheduling is key, but to deliver the best service, you need to monitor your employees as well. Because in the care industry, it's not just management that wants to know the status of care—it's their family and friends as well. With the increased transparency provided by Sirenum monitoring tools, your clients know when you have cared for their loved ones.

Financial

Today's care environment is already jam-packed with efficiency challenges. The last thing you want is your operations and finance teams burdened with reams of paper to manage your payroll process. With automated timesheet and payroll development, Sirenum removes the need for double data entry, saving customers up to 75% of payroll processing costs. Sirenum takes your mind off the paperwork and keeps it on the care.
