Sirenum helps organisations meet the evolving needs of the rapidly expanding dynamic workforce. Our technology leverages mobile and the cloud to streamline the management of part-time, temporary, and hourly workers.

Built from the ground up to handle the complexity common to temporary staffing agencies, Sirenum is also well suited to help employers in complex work environments like transport, care, construction, and security. Sirenum helps these organisations in scheduling shifts, monitoring staff, and processing key financial processes including payroll.

Our platform integrates with leading software, hardware, and services vendors to deliver a complete solution across the dynamic workforce management lifecycle, from employee recruiting and onboarding all the way to net payroll and invoicing. With Sirenum, employers drastically reduce costs while growing revenue, increasing staff utilisation and improving health and safety.
